Business Opportunities

TO ADVERTISERS —BALTIMORE, with a reputation for being in the lead in most modern improvements, the biggest industrial centre of the South, often shows a lack of appreciation of one of its own most necessary and highly developed business-getting industries, the, advertising agency. With the true Baltimore conservatiam, our local advertisers often shows a lack of appreciation of one of its own most necessary and highly developed business-getting industries, the, advertising agency. With the true Baltimore conservatism, our local advertisers have either resisted the progressive call of publicity, or, in such small instances of its use, they have underrated the honor of their home "prophets." For years Baltimore merchants have sent their advertising business away from home to be handled by forcign concerns, with varying success. True, there may have been some reason in "the paucity of home talent," but those who offered this excuse had never availed themselves of the services of the oldest and best equipped advertising plant in the South. THE MILBOURNE ADVERTISING ACIENCY. For thirty-six years we have controlled the publicity of some of the most successful advertisers in Baltimore and elcinity. The most frequent complaint heard in town is that, while copy of undoubted merit is written here, the illustrating end of Baltimore advertising is of a decidedly negative quality. Realizing the justice of this contention, that has existed for a long time, we have inaugurated an art department fitted to deal with any problem of advertising illustration. This new department is under the direction of Mr. H. Brooke Levering, whose exceptional ability as a high-class advertising artist is well known. Through wide experience, Mr. Levering is thoroughly familiar with the art end of all forms of advertising—street car, outdoor, newspaper and sugazine—he also has the co-operative ald of the best engravers and local art authorities. Our art service, therefore, cannot be how but make Baltimore known as a place where things can be done "as well as in New York." And in complication with our staff of up-to-date copy men, under the supervision of one of the best and writers in the country, fresh ideas and the best of liustrations make the Milhfollink service a profitable adjunct to the business of its clients.
